

Steven M. Mister, Esq.

President and CEO
Council for Responsible Nutrition

Steven M. Mister is president and CEO of the Council for Responsible Nutrition (CRN), the leading trade association representing product manufacturers and raw ingredient suppliers of dietary supplements. Under his leadership, CRN has experienced a refined strategic focus and increased membership and has launched new initiatives to enhance consumer confidence in the supplement industry. Immediately prior to joining CRN, he was the director of Government Affairs at the National Association of Professional Employer Organizations (NAPEO), where he developed and implemented a state government relations program tracking and responding to legislation in all 50 states. Before that, Steve served in several legal and legislative roles for more than a decade at the Consumer Healthcare Products Association (CHPA). He also worked as an attorney in the Washington, DC, law firm of Wiley, Rein & Fielding in general litigation, government ethics, and federal election law practice groups and had a stint on Capitol Hill as a media relations assistant for former U.S. Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. He received his law degree from the College of William and Mary, his M.A. in political communication from the University of Maryland, and his B.S. from Towson University.
